Who Plays a Dominant Role in Southeast Asian PMDI Markets?

2018-04-10

PUDaily, Shanghai-- In 2017, the PMDI (polymeric MDI) price in China increased by nearly 100%. The price of PMDI in southeast Asia followed suit, reaching a record high. Data from PUDaily shows that the price of PMDI in southeast Asia was in the range of between USD 1,900 and 3,450 tons. The average price was $2,700/ton, up 93% from $1,300/ ton in 2016. After exchanging with local market participants, PUDaily learned about the price-influencing factors that draw the closest attention. As for supply and demand, their focus is mainly on the volume of imported goods and downstream purchasing mentality. What's interesting is that they also pay attention to the price in China...
