Will the Soaring Price of PMDI Continue?

2019-04-02

PUdaily, Shanghai-- In the first two weeks of March, the price of PMDI largely fluctuated between RMB 14,500 and 15,000/ton. Into the second half of the month, the price rose rapidly from around RMB 15,000/ton to around RMB 18,000/ton, a 20% increase in only two weeks. This surprised the market participants. Looking back on this round of price increase, it can be found that the suppliers had premeditated the price hike. The smart dealers were reluctant to sell their goods. The downstream manufacturers, wrongly believing that the low price would continue, saw their inventories depleted. The demand increased as the policy of home appliances going to the countryside was introduced. Considering these favorable factors, it is natural that the price rose rapidly. How will the price move in the future? Will it continue to go up rapidly. Pudaily will give its answer...More
